FREE WILLS MONTH

helping great charities

Taking part is easy

Just call a participating solicitor for an appointment.

An up to date Will written by a solicitor ensures your wishes are respected. It also avoids difficult decisions and legal complications for your loved ones. Free Wills Month allows you to provide for family and friends and leave a gift to your chosen charities too.

The campaign pays for simple Wills. If your Will is more complex you can pay the solicitor for any extra work.

The Free Wills Month charities encourage you to support them when making your Will.

Give yourself peace of mind and help great charities continue their vital work.

To choose a participating solicitor please:

Aged 55 or over? Help charities and make your Will for FREE

Please act now as appointments are limited

freewillsmoth.org.uk

Charities are paying for people aged 55 and over to have simple Wills written or updated during Free Wills Month.

If you're making your Will as a couple, only one of you needs to be 55.

This is your opportunity to leave:

- A share or percentage of your estate. Half of all gifts left to charities are a share of the person's estate after family and friends have been remembered. These gifts save you deciding on precise amounts to leave.
- A sum of money such as £500 or £5000.
- Specific gifts, such as jewellery, furniture, or property.

A gift to a charity in your Will costs nothing in your lifetime and makes a difference for years to come.

Age UK is here for older people when they need us most. From providing weekly friendship calls, to helping people access the vital advice and support they need – a gift in your will to Age UK could be a lifeline for someone who has nowhere else to turn.

National Trust

Our natural world and places of historic beauty are at serious risk. Together, we can help nature recover, bring people closer to it, and ensure our shared history continues to inspire us all. By leaving a gift in your will to the National Trust you'll ensure future generations can enjoy nature, beauty and history for ever.

A gift in your Will to Mencap will give 1.5 million people with a learning disability someone to turn to. Someone who will fight their corner, and someone who will ensure they're seen and respected as individuals. Together we can make the UK the best place in the world for people with a learning disability to live happy, healthy lives.
